

SOUTHEAST-ERN ON TO MADISON

Semi-Official Announcement Made
PLANS FOR SURVEY

President Cargill Refuses to Affirm or Deny the Story.

Semi-official announcement has been made that the La Crosse and Southeastern will extend its line from Viroqua to Madison, and this now seems to be confirmed by word which comes from Viroqua to the effect that plans are now being made to start the survey this fall.

It is stated that the preliminary survey has already been made and that the company has practically decided the course for the extension of the road. It will go south and east from Viroqua, leaving the ridge and crossing the Kickapoo near Manning and again coming on to the Sylvan or Sugar Grove ridge near Sugar Grove; thence following the ridge to its east forks. Here following the southeasterly trend of the ridge to Richland Center, from which place the line will continue to Madison and other southern points.

Arrangements are now being made for the surveying of this route this fall, at least as far as possible.

A Fruitful Interview.
W. S. Cargill, president of the Southeastern, was called up by phone this morning by the Tribune.
"Mr. Cargill?"
"Yes!"
"This is the Tribune."

"We have a report that the Southeastern is to be extended from Viroqua to Madison. Is there any truth in it?"

"I have nothing to say on it at all," Mr. Cargill's telephone number is "13."

New Viroqua Depot.

Plans and specifications for the new La Crosse and Southeastern depot for Viroqua, are in the hands of contractors. They call for one story brick building with stone basement and in size about 32 by 40 feet. The basement will be used for freight and baggage for the present. On the first floor there will be a smoking room, waiting room and office.

THE VENETIAN MASKED CARNIVAL

Entrancing Night Planned For Grand
Finale of Fair Week.

An automobile parade, firemen and carnival fete resembling the famous masked carnival held periodically in Venice, Italy, are features planned for evening attractions down town during fair week.

These features are already assured, and others are being discussed by businessmen who have the down town program in charge. At a meeting held yesterday it was decided to have on each evening during the fair a series of four special attractions down town in addition to the big events above named. These four acts will be free to all and the merchants will stand the expense.

It is planned to have the automobile parade Wednesday night, the fire run Thursday and the Venetian carnival Friday night.

The masked carnival will be an innovation in this section of the country, nothing like it ever having been seen in this vicinity before. Masks and fantastic costumes will be worn by hundreds of people, everybody being privileged to join in the fun. There will be no confetti or rowdism allowed and everything will be conducted in an orderly manner. A big parade will be a feature of the evening's fun and prizes will be offered for the most elaborate and fantastic costumes.

The general committee on arrangement which has charge of the down town attractions is composed of Walter Rose, F. W. Cowles, John Toeller, E. C. Joosten and C. N. Dunham. The committee is busily engaged in working out the program in detail and it will be announced in a few days.

Bath To Remain
Open A Week

At the office of the board of public works this afternoon it was announced that the public bath would be kept open one more week the plan being to close it for the season next Saturday or Sunday night.

Business at the bath has steadily been falling off since the advent of autumn weather. The water has been too chilly for many of the regular patrons, although a number of devotees, including several ladies, are still taking their daily plunges. A party of school teachers have been among the best patrons of the bath this year, rarely missing a day. A half dozen of these ladies are still to be seen in the bath every afternoon after school.

JAILED FOR AB-
SENT MINDEDNESS

William Adams Walked Out of Store With the Wrnog Hat.

For walking absent mindedly out of a store attired in a new derby hat which he had tried on with the intention of buying, and leaving in its place his old derby William Adams of Chicago will spend the next twenty days in the county jail.

The case is one of the most puzzling which has come to the attention of the local authorities for some time. Adams does not look like a common sneak thief or a man who would work a game on a storekeeper. He claims to be a railroad man and his speech indicates that he is intelligent. Nevertheless he had in his possession for six hours a hat which did not belong to him, and in view of all the evidence the court felt warranted in imposing a small sentence.

The story told in court this morning was that Adams walked into Reuter & Mader's store yesterday morning and asked to see some derby hats. The clerk was busy and told him to go over and try on a few. Adams busied himself around the hat rack for some time and finally sauntered out of the store attired in a new derby similar in style to his old one. The latter was left on the counter, George Volz, for whom Adams had worked as a carpenter since he came to the city, was waiting outside for him in his wagon and when Adams came out they drove away together. Adams had been in the store several times before and Volz had purchased articles for him. Even at that time Adams had a pair of trousers in the store, left there to have the legs shortened.

Defendant claimed on the stand that he had no intention of stealing the hat which he wore out of the store. He stood around for a while and when no one came to wait on him put on a hat which he thought was his and left, intending to come back later and get his trousers. He had money coming from Chicago, he claimed, and was awaiting its arrival before starting for Minneapolis, where he expected to get work with one of the railroads.

He claimed to have discovered that he had on a new hat in the middle of the afternoon, while he was in Petition park. He was much surprised and made up his mind to take it back to the store after he had called at the postoffice, where he expected to find the letter containing money. He was on his way to the postoffice, he said, when Officer Dugan placed him under arrest.

At the station a couple of pairs of socks identified as coming from the same store, were found in his pocket. Adams claimed these socks were purchased.

GRANEY TO REFEREE

Fight Over Jeffries Threatened to Break Up
The Match.

(Scripps-McRae Dispatch.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—Nolan for Nelson insists either Siler or Graneley referee the fight, and will not stand for Jeffries. Britt has sent word he will accept Graneley and the fight is now assured. Graneley is in the ring.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—At 1:30 Nelson still refused to enter the ring until the referee question was decided and the Britts claim Nolan has defied. They will claim Nelson's forfeit money unless he appears in the ring by 2:00 o'clock.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 9.—The matter of a referee at 11 o'clock was still unsettled. Nolan said unless his feelings changed he wouldn't accept Jeffries. He declares Nelson a sure winner. Jeffries says he will referee and give a square deal. Both fighters claim certain victory.

The crowds began to assemble at noon. After being weighed in Nolan declared he wouldn't accept Jeffries but it is believed the fight will occur without delay.

The fog and bad weather of this morning gave way to sunshine. The referee fight is still unsettled. It is possible Graneley will be accepted at the ring. The betting amounted to nothing.

Hold-up Prices.
When the crowd had gathered to buy bleacher seats which were advertised at $3, speculators had them all, selling them at $5. The same occurred with higher priced seats, from $2.50 to $5 being added to the ridiculous price advertised.

Britt and Nelson weighed in at 133.

GIRL'S OWN WIT-NESS AGAINST HER

Miss Jennie Powell Can't Explain Why She Is a Nice Girl.

Jennie Powell, arrested on the charge of being a drunkard and vagrant, made plans yesterday to put up a strong defense and was dumbfounded when her own witnesses testified against her in county court this morning.

She was arrested Thursday night and taken to central station by two officers in a pitiable condition. Attired in an old dirty kitchen gown and with blood streaming down her face and over her clothes from a cut on the cheek she presented a sorry spectacle. She was half dazed with liquor and knew little of what had happened to her until the next morning.

In court this morning she was much surprised to hear a young man whom she had subpoenaed for a witness testify that her reputation was bad and that she was known as a street walker. This clinched the case of the prosecution and Judge Brindley sentenced defendant to 30 days in the county jail.

Health Officer Investigates Dead Cow

Residents of the vicinity of George street are still investigating matters in regard to the action of the proprietor of a certain meat market in that vicinity who recently had an animal which was injured in the cars at Grand Crossing hauled to his place of business. It is said that he only wished to use the hide and this is generally believed to be true, but when asked what he did with the carcass he refused to answer. Health Officer Mejer called at the shop a few days after the animal had been taken there and reported all to be in a satisfactory condition.

SWELL SOCIAL EVENT.

The Mesdames G. R. Smith and Ed. L. Laughlin entertained at a garden party last evening at the former's home at 1543 Avon street, where the large lawn had been beautifully illuminated for the occasion with electric lights and Japanese lanterns. It was one of the most delightful garden parties ever given. As the grass was somewhat damp a large number of rugs were procured and the lawn was almost completely covered with them. The hostess received under a large red umbrella. On the reception committee were H. P. Long who was in general charge, assisted by the Mesdames F. C. Suiter and S. McKee. The refreshments were served in three courses.

Coffee was served first Mesdames Dr. C. W. Luck and Kimber and Geo. Shults, who assisted in serving, were waited upon at a small tent which was in charge of Mrs. Ben Storck.

The ice cream tent was in charge of Mrs. J. L. Callahan assisted by the Mesdames James Pratt, W. Homer and Cornelius.

The punch bowl was located under a beautiful Japanese umbrella and was served by Miss Pearl Laughlin assisted by the Misses Ethel Corran, Helen G. Smith, Norma Partridge, Aileen Foster and Mrs. Robert Manes.

After the refreshments were served a grand march was given. Music was furnished by the Riek orchestra and was very good.

The principal feature of the garden party, last but not least, and who caused the most amusement was the fortune teller, whose name could not be learned. She was a most charming personage in her makeup of paints and Oriental costumes and told tales of the past, present and future in such a manner as to completely surprise the large number of people who took the great opportunity to consult her. She sent nearly all of them out of her tent with a smile. It is said she was a member of the north side carnival and was called Rosetta. At any rate she received a large patronage and her customers were always well pleased.

CARNIVAL CROWDS INCREASE

The bride was becomingly gowned in a white nub voile trimmed with cream lame over white silk, and the maid of honor wore a sheer white mull.

After the ceremony the bridal party returned to the Spettel home at 406 North Fourth street where an elaborate supper was served to about thirty, all relatives.

The bride is a La Crosse girl and has always been a favorite among her large circle of friends. The groom is a business man and for years has been one of the proprietors of the Lutz fur store.

Mr. and Mrs. Lutz will go to house keeping immediately at 513 South Ninth street and will be at home to friends after September 10. No cards.

The out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Schorenberg of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Boehme of Minneapolis, Mrs. Joseph Kalt of Milwaukee.

The bride was presented with many beautiful gifts among which were several pieces of cut glass and silver.

LAUNCH PARTY.

Myron Savage, Robert and Stanley Gordon, George Garrett, Parmelee Smith, Edward Burns, Charles Tarbox, Earl Pryor and Charles Suiter and Math Hosley gave a launch party.

Wednesday afternoon Mrs. G. M. Heath and Mrs. George Gordon chaperoned a launch party for the Misses Grace and Ruth Heath. Those of the party were the Misses Emma and Louise Gund, Margery Gordon, Abby Coren, Eleanor Marston, Viola Doerflinger, Nannie Funk, Margaret Brown of Madison, Grace and Ruth Heath, Messrs. Alex and Horace Holley, William Symmons, Charles Doud, Russell James.

AUCTION PARTY.

A red flag flying from the Louis Pamperin residence on North Seventh street Thursday afternoon created a panic among the neighbors. Whether it was a danger signal, flag of distress of an auction sale could not for a while be determined but the mystery was soon solved when guests began to arrive clad in pretty summer gowns which argued an afternoon function of some sort. Indoor cards were suspended from the walls announcing an auction sale of rare and beautiful articles of bric-a-brac. Miss Anna Pamperin was auctioneer and a most successful one she was for everything brought good prices though there were many good bargains. The auctioneer was fluent and her descriptive powers were good which has much to do with the success of a sale of this kind. After the sale was over refreshments were served and a social time indulged in. The guests of honor of the afternoon were the Misses Meri and Gert Heck of Milwaukee.

waukee, cousins of the hostess, Mrs. Louis Pamperin. Those present were the Misses Nan Blumenfeld of Milwaukee, Flora Guenther, Mildred Olberg, Irma and Olga Candrian, Lydia Kremers of Milwaukee, Lulu and Abby Coren, Barbara Russell, Melinda, Eleanor and Nannie Funk, Lillian Kroner and Anna Pamperin.

SUPPERS.

A picnic supper was given Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Sill for Miss Jennie Listman. The piece de resistance was a large pie which centered the table and was an object of much interest. When the pie was opened they all began to sing for it was filled with packages all tied with red string bearing the name of the guest of honor. It was a most delightful occasion which every one present appreciated. Covers were laid eight, Mrs. Sill, Mrs. W. L. Crosby, Miss Listman, Mrs. Mary Shadbolt, Miss Sill, Miss Mary Austin, Mrs. Mary Eaton and Miss Wheeler.

Thursday evening Miss Gertrude Hogan entertained at a dinner in honor of Miss Listman. The guests were Miss Listman, Miss Frances Sill, Mrs. Mary Shadbolt, Mrs. Mary Austin and Miss Anne Paul.

JAPANESE TEA.

Mrs. J. M. Hixon entertained twenty-five matrons and young women at a Japanese tea given in honor of her sister, Mrs. Alexander Paul of Watertown, Fla. The decorations were China asters of which there was a great profusion and arranged with exquisite taste. The plate cards were little Japanese sketches in water colors and the favors were all of the same nature. The ice cream was served in forms representing Japanese maidens carrying the inevitable parasol. It was a novel and pretty conceit.

"CHERRY VALLEY" A VIRGINIA STORY

The attraction at the La Crosse theatre Wednesday, Sept. 13, will be "Cherry Valley," a story of Virginia by John Crittenden Webb, and will be produced on a very elaborate and imposing scale. The scenery and mechanical effects used in the production of this beautiful play are said to be the acme of stage realism and the management call attention to the fact that the pictures of the scenes as well as all of the advertising displayed by this company are not in the least exaggerated but are made from photographs taken by flashlights from the actual representation given on the stage. The cast is said to be exceptionally strong, the piece is a triumph for both company and management and will no doubt meet with due recognition from our theatregoers. Prices, 10, 20, 30 and 50c.

A baseball enthusiast turns to the sporting page with less eagerness than the man who wants to buy a house turns to the real estate ads.—and there could hardly be a stronger comparison than this.

LA CROSSE BUSINESS MEN IN CANADIAN LAND PARTY

Large Party Will Leave Here Tuesday for Fertile Country.

Businessmen of La Crosse and vicinity are about to invade the Canadian northwest in search of land investments and business openings. The first large party from this vicinity will leave next Tuesday. It will include half a dozen La Crosse men, four or five from Southern Minnesota points, and two or three from Sparta.

The party will travel from Minneapolis to Winnipeg over the Soo line and thence will take the Canadian Pacific to their destination in western Canada. Their destination will be Bennington in the Saskatchewan valley, Asse, said to be in the center of some of the finest agricultural land in western Canada.

Reports emanating from this portion of Canada are that the country is just waking up to its possibilities. New towns are springing up and immigration has been enormous during the past year, many settlers coming from the states. The country gives promise of soon becoming the greatest wheat producing area on the continent.

The government of Canada is federal. The provinces are similar organizations to each state composing the American Unions. The country is entirely self governing and self maintaining and is not called upon to pay any taxes whatever to Great Britain. Canada maintains no standing army or navy. The people are in the happy position of being entirely free to devote themselves to the peaceful development of the great resources of their own country. Nowhere else in the world are "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness" more secure and untrammelled than in the Dominion; nowhere is taxation lighter or more equitable and the utmost freedom has been given to municipalities to handle their own affairs. Those from the United States who have become residents of this "new land of promise" speedily ascertain that the country is quite as free as the great American republic and that each community is self governing in the strictest sense of the word. The franchise confers voting power upon practically all male residents of full age. There is a perfect system of municipal government in each province by which municipal councils are elected by the people to control and govern all purely local and municipal matters and every act of provincial parliament (which is the same as the state legislature gives the utmost possible freedom to localities to manage their own local affairs.) The members of the provincial legislature as well as the members of the house of commons which corresponds with the United States congress, are elected by the direct vote of the people.

The Canadian naturalization laws are marked by a spirit of great liberality toward foreigners and such persons can transact any business and own any real estate in Canada without becoming naturalized.

Members of the La Crosse party will probably make large purchases of land during their trip. They expect to be gone about nine days. The excursion is being made as guests of the United States and Canada Land company.

New York, Sept. 9.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says: Commercial news continues most satisfactory, improvement being reported in almost every case except the further decline in prices of securities. Crops are being harvested under most favorable conditions, and a few weeks more without severe frost will put the yield of corn and cotton beyond danger. Industrial progress is accelerated by the broadening demand for iron and steel products, textile mills and shoe factories are well occupied, while the demand for material testifies to extension of building operations.

Considering the prosperous conditions labor struggles are exceptionally few. Jobbers in many lines are unable to handle the business offered by visiting merchants, although packing and shipping departments are often worked overtime. Retailers report a wholesale distribution of staple merchandise, and there are comparatively few complaints regarding collections. Liberal consumption has caused a further slight rise in the level of commodity prices.

Failures this week numbered 180 in the United States, against 200 last year, and 23 in Canada, compared with 16 a year ago.

"ANOTHER LIE NAILED."

Through ignorance, or malice—more of the former with a shake of the latter—the Chronicle made a misstatement this morning.

This is not unusual, as the Chronicle seldom permits an opportunity to misinform its readers slip by.

Ordinarily the Tribune does not bother to challenge these misstatements, especially when they are not harmful, for it has another mission, and has not the time, nor patience.

Now the organ of misspent board of trade speculations stated, in its columns intended for news, that the "printing firm" which held the contract for publishing council proceedings, had "fallen down" and "violated its contract." Our kindly feeling toward the young men who are drawing salaries from the old National bank building, and our regard for ethics, cause us to refrain from delving into the details of the article's origin. However, the author is aware of the sentiments of the man-under-the-flat-brimmed-derby, who voices the ideas cherished and conveyed over Telephone No. 13, and a slap at the "printing firm" which holds the contract is regarded as a mark of rare merit "upstairs," with a possible chance for a ride in the automobile.

The Tribune prints the council proceedings.

The Tribune has, and will, print them per contract.

The Tribune is printing the council proceedings for half what the Organs of unsuccessful board of trade gambles and of lighting notoriety asked, thus saving the taxpayers 100 per cent cash.

The Tribune by accepting the contract on these terms prevented the splitting up, between the Organs, of the fat fees they planned to grab.

Hence it is natural that the Tribune should be maliciously attacked as having "failed to deliver the goods," even if no opportunity were offered. This makes the malice evident.

It is not necessary for us to deal with the "ignorance." Just read the Organs.

But we wish to state in this connection that the Tribune has lived up to every letter of its contract with the city. Its contract provides that the printed proceedings shall be in the hands of the city clerk one week after the last copy is turned in. The last copy given the Tribune by City Clerk Sieger was handed in last Wednesday.

Long before next Wednesday the printed pamphlets will be in the hands of the city clerk.

The pamphlets were not expected at the meeting of the council last night—they were not due.

But the Chronicle—naturally—did not know this. The opportunity to make a display of ignorance was too much for the Chronicle, and it succumbed as usual.

For misinformation on every topic allowed in print by law, read the organ of misfortune.

CHRONICLE'S FOOT IN ITS MOUTH, AS USUAL.

The La Crosse Chronicle mentions every town on the Southeastern railroad except Westby when it gives an account of the merchants' excursion to La Crosse yesterday. The Chronicle will please take the map of Wisconsin, find Vernon county, then the city of Viroqua. Westby is situated just seven miles north of Viroqua.

Westby sent 76 people on the excursion and still the three speakers and at least two La Crosse newspapers never mentioned Westby. They spoke about their abundance of brotherly love for Viroqua and hoped the time would come when La Crosse would extend its limits and take in Vernon county's county seat as a suburb. Just how they could put their arms around old mother Viroqua without finding sister Westby dangling in their lap, is a conundrum. It would have to be an exhibition of magic not known to Keller or any other wizard.—Westby Times.

THE ALLEGED RIOTING IN TOKIO.

If the dispatches are reliable which tell of rioting and loss of life at Tokio on account of dissatisfaction with the Portsmouth treaty of peace, there seems reason to fear that the successful conduct of the war with Russia has awakened a thirst for blood such as sometimes affects previously well disposed mastiffs which have accidentally made havoc in flocks of sheep and can never afterwards be cured of a desire to repeat the slaughter.

But the probabilities are that the news from Japan may have been incomplete or exaggerated. The inhabitants of that empire have hitherto shown themselves so perfectly reasonable and discreet in their dealings with other nations as well as in the institution and continuance at home of all the adaptable features of civilization from the outside world that it is difficult to think of them as being so carried away by military success as to want to sacrifice additional thousands of their neighbors and friends on the chance of inflicting still greater injury upon the great and powerful empire of Russia.

If the reported rioting is really an indication of the national spirit, however, the loom of Japan is sure. Its true guarantee of permanent greatness would be a continuance of the patience and absence of violent emotion shown when the European nations stepped in after the close of the Chinese war and snatched the fruit of victory from its grasp. There was then no exhibition of insensate anger. The inevitable was quietly accepted and the people prepared themselves to secure better results later on.

This time all has been accomplished that Japan set out to do and more. Russia has been brought to her knees and the predominance of Japan assured in the east unless the assurance should be lost by some yielding to blind passion. The acquisition of the most valuable part of Sakhalin was not in the original program of the war but it is an accomplished fact. The Russians are driven back into their own territory and concede many properties to the victors the possession of which by themselves was previously undisputed. It would be the height of folly for Japan to sink additional hundreds of millions of money because other hundreds of millions were not obtained in the shape of indemnity. The two governments have acted wisely and the likelihood is that the rioting in Japan (if there is rioting) is no more evidence of general disturbance over the terms of peace than is the Tartar savagery among the Caucasian mountains.—Milwaukee Free Press.

Such weather, such sunshine, dispels enmities.

Pfister should have learned by this time to be careful with bomerangs.

All together, now, lets boost La Crosse—but, remember, ALL TOGETHER.

We can find solace in the fact that the world in general is good, even if there are crooks.

If someone could muzzle the Wooster string fiends, we could now turn our attention to our winter fuel.

It is hard to understand why a newspaper will lie when its estimable hirelings know the truth will be out a few hours later.

The Jokesmiths now declare John D. a man with a soul, and a good fellow. Strange what a moment's patronage by a rich man will do for the imagination.

The North Side Argus, once remarked that it was easier to end the war in the east than the war in La Crosse. Well both are about over, one through diplomacy and the other through force of justice.

One thing we neglected to mention last evening was that the reason the Franklin club did not debate the question of the good the Tribune has done the community was because no one could be secured to argue for the opposition.

If the city government expects to "train" taxpayers to enthuse over new pavement, it should at least set a good example. The South Fourth street matter and the poor quality of curb put in on State street are matters that should be remedied—and at once.

JUST LIFE

THE GIRL YOU DIDN'T GET.

(With apologies to "Punch.")
Of unrequited love we read, in story, verse and song,
How cruel is fate to some whose hearts were true;
We sigh to view the pathos and to realize e'er long
The hair will turn to silver, when the snow comes drifting through.
There is no deeper wound of fate than that which strikes us where
The sharp pain seems to linger when we're old—and still, and yet—
When e'er we meet a wounded heart, the love's still burning there,
And the lover's always grieving for the girl he didn't get.

And we wonder as we study what the story would have been
If he whose love was spurned had won the maid;
Would he have been as happy, would he have loved her, e'en
As he loves her now in fancy, when the rose began to fade?
If, a year beyond their marriage, when he sat down to a meal,
From his coffee and the butter he could pluck a hair of gold,
If her cakes were fit for gunwags, do you think that he would squeal,
Would he love her just as tenderly as in the days of old?

Is it not a subtle mystery that weaves the web of love,
The laces and the perfume, the eyes,—the hair—the smile—
If he had to buy the powder, and the paint to fix his dove,
Gentle reader, don't you really think, 'twould hold him for a while?
Affinities seem mermaids we seek in vain to find,
And love is like a cold deck where the dealer gets your bet;
So, cynic, if you've lost her, do not think the fates unkind,
You're not forced to eat the cooking of the girl you didn't get.

THE SPECTATOR.

Mr. Owen tells an amusing story that illustrates how observing the American youth is even when we think him little more than a baby.

His tour embraces one of the larger cities of Wisconsin. At supper, his attention was drawn to a table where sat a man, a woman and a boy, evidently the young hopeful of the family, about six years old. They had evidently intentions of going to see Othello that night, and had recognized Mr. Owen as the star of the company, for their gestures and actions, showed their unusual interest. Evidently the actor's appearance was being discussed. The boy showed in the animation.

The next evening as Mr. Owen was carrying his grip down the hall toward the office, the youth of six stepped out of his room and planting himself squarely in front of the actor and said:

"So you are Iago. My, but you are a bad man. I wouldn't have thought it of you. How could you do it? Do you know what they ought to have done with you last night, when you told all those lies? They ought to lynch you."

The actor sat down his grip and confronted his young accuser.

"Well, I am going to do the same thing tonight."

"The first thing you know the police will get you."

The actor laughs when he tells it and concludes, "I think myself the boy is right."

Othello will be at La Crosse theatre on Monday, Sept. 11.

It was such an innocent little game. You just take your penny in your hand, shake it around a little and flop it down on the table. There were three in the game and the one whose penny came up odd, head or tail, took the other two.

County Clerk Rawlinson and Supervisor Thompson were matching alone first, endeavoring to win each other's supply of coppers, when County Treasurer Roesler became interested.

"Want to get in, Herman? It's more fun three handed," urged the county clerk.

"Sure, come on," chimed in the supervisor.

"Don't care if I do," said the treasurer, as he dumped out his visible supply of pennies onto the table with the reckless air of a sure-enough gambler.

First round—The supervisor's penny showed its head, the clerk's had tail up and the treasurer's likewise. The supervisor won.

Second round—The clerk's penny showed up head, the supervisor's tail and the treasurer's tail. The clerk won.

Third round—Supervisor's penny head up, clerk's tail and treasurer's head. The clerk wins.

And so on for 13 rounds, the treasurer not winning once.

"Well, wouldn't that luck shiver your haystacks," said the treasurer.

"It's certainly peculiar," said the clerk.

"Try again, Herman," suggested the supervisor. "Maybe your luck will turn."

Just then the reporter, who had been an innocent spectator up to that time, sputtered and spit and made motions with his mouth and finally, unable to hold in any longer, let out a guffaw which was heard over in the postoffice building. The clerk and supervisor joined in the spasms and finally had to quit the room, retiring to the clerk's vault to divide the pot midst numerous roars of laughter. The reporter was handed the odd cent to keep it out of the paper.

The treasurer, with his head between his hands, gazed long and wistfully at the spot on the table where his coppers had disappeared. Finally he pulled out his personal account book and wrote therein "To sundries, 13 cents." and then very carefully locked the door between his office and the clerk's and started to count the money in the cash drawer.

COUNCIL WILL SUE COUNTY FOR BACK TAX MONEY

If County Board Refuses to Reduce the City's Portion to 55 Per Cent Trouble Will Follow.

Resolutions instructing the city attorney to begin suit against the county to recover in behalf of the city an alleged excess of taxes paid by the city to the county during the past six years, were introduced in the council last night.

Unless the county board will reduce the city's portion of the county tax to less than 55 per cent the city will appeal to the state tax commission. Under the report of the equalization commission which recently completed its work the city is now paying 57 per cent.

The county members at a meeting held recently at West Salem declared this amount unfair to the county districts and announced their determination to start a fight to increase the city's burden. The action of the council last night indicates it will be a war.

The resolutions introduced last night were referred to the finance and judiciary committees and city attorney and will be reported upon at the next meeting. The resolutions in part follow:

Resolved, That unless the equalization of the assessment of taxes between the county and city of La Crosse is so reduced by the county board at its next meeting, so as to make the city's portion less than 55 percent, that an appeal be taken to the state tax commission, and be it further

Resolved, That the common council of the city of La Crosse hereby request every member of the county board, both from the towns, villages and cities in the county, to use every effort to secure a just and equitable equalization of the taxes of this county.

The other resolution is as follows: Whereas, During the eleven years prior to 1904, the county board of the county of La Crosse appropriated $88,000 to be spent in repairing highways in La Crosse county, and

Whereas, Of this amount the city of La Crosse paid during that time $55,446.90 and received out of the $88,000 to be used on the streets of the city the paltry sum of $16,650, the county outside of the city paid $29,301.23 and received back $71,350, and

Whereas, It appears from the records that the towns outside of the city spent in improving their highways but a mere trifle as compared with the amount spent by the city in improving the roads and bridges, and

Whereas, It appears that, with the proportion of the $88,000 annually levied against the city it could in a short time macadamize every main traveled highway from the business part of the city to the city limits, and

Whereas, It is not required by law that the amount of $88,000 should be annually levied for temporary repairs of highways, therefore be it

Resolved, By the mayor and common council of the city of La Crosse

that it is the sense of the body, representing the taxpayers of the city of La Crosse, that we believe it unwise for the city to vote for the levying of $88,000 road and bridge fund, and be it further

Resolved, That we request the members of the county board from the city of La Crosse to oppose this expenditure as being unwise and not for the best interest of the city of La Crosse.

Quincy Arrives on Last Trip of Season

With the arrival of the Quincy on her down trip today, La Crosse people seen the last Diamond Jo steamer for the season, this being the final trip. When she reaches Rock Island and she will go to the yards, however, she will go south until she meets the Dubuque and exchange passengers and return to Rock Island where she will be taken out of commission for the season.

The packets will remain idle until May or June next spring when they will again be used for the upper river traffic. The passenger business during the season has been very heavy and the St. Paul, Sidney and Quincy were the three packets that passed this point during the season. The Dubuque which has been seen in these waters remained in the short line trade on the lower river. The Dubuque will probably remain in the trade until Nov. 1.

PARADERS CATCHY MUSICAL COMEDY TOMORROW EVE

A musical comedy, by Raymond W. Peck and the music by Robert Hood Bowers, will be the attraction at the La Crosse theatre, Sunday night, Sept. 10th. This is by far the best work of these justly celebrated authors, and was the vehicle which made the fame and fortune of the La Salle theatre, in Chicago, where it had the unprecedented run of 200 nights.

It was the conspicuous success last season at both San Francisco and Boston, and will be presented on tour this season, for the first time, with practically the original cast. It has steadily improved and is now really good value for those seeking light diversion. Prices, 25 to $1.

"ALASKA" SCENIC PRODUCTION TONIGHT

"Alaska," which Messrs. Hartwell and James will present at the La Crosse theatre tonight, is one of the greatest scenic melodramas on the road. While "Alaska" is a stirring melodrama, it is not one of those blood curdling kind that appeals to the sensational entirely but play with a coherent story, situations that are true and could be possible in Texas, Pennsylvania or in Alaska where the story is laid. There is a deep heart interest together with a bountiful supply of humor, a large share of this comedy being furnished by the Widow Casey and ably assisted by the humorous and quaint Dutchman. In securing "Alaska" the management of the La Crosse theatre will give patrons a production that is calculated to suit all classes. A scenic melodrama with a coherent story, and a competent cast is always relished by theatre goers. "Alaska" is not a play that depends upon red fire for its effect. Prices, 10, 20, 30 and 50c.

SIEGER'S BILL FINALLY DROPPED

City Clerk Joseph M. Sieger's famous bill of $50 has finally been dropped by the council. This bill was the one opposed by Alderman Downs, who contended that it was an excesssive amount to demand for a trip to Chicago when the bonding company had paid the railroad fare.

City Clerk Sieger once declared to the Tribune that he had the fifty and would like to see anyone get it way from him. He said later, however, that he did not mean this literally and after thinking the matter over for a week or two decided to return the money and drop his bill.

ELEMENTS ADD TO HOROR WROUGHT BY EARTHQUAKE

Nearly 400 Lives Are Lost in The Crash.

Rome, Sept. 9.—All Italy is suffering from terrible depression because of the news from the south, where one of the worst earthquakes ever experienced, have occurred. Although the earthquake was felt all over Calabria, and to a certain extent in Sicily, the worst news comes from Pizzo and Monteleone, and from eighteen villages which are said to have been completely destroyed. According to the latest news received 370 persons have been killed and a great number injured. It is as yet impossible to even estimate the property losses.

Scenes of Indescribable Terror.
The shock was felt at 2:55 a. m. It lasted for eighteen seconds at Catanzaro, and soon thereafter was felt at Messina, Reggio, Monteleone, Martinano, Stefani, Piscopio, Tripardi, Zammato, Cossaniti, Nadda, Olivadi and other points. Scenes of indescribable terror ensued. Women aroused from their sleep rushed half clothed into the streets, screaming with fear, carrying their babies, and dragging along their other children, and calling for help on the Madonna and the saints. The men escaped into the open with their families, all calling on their favorite saints for protection.

Prisoners in Jails Were Frantic.
The cafes were taken by assault by the strangely garbed crowd, but as daylight broke without a repetition of the earthquake the crowd gradually melted away until by 8 a. m. the streets had almost assumed their normal appearance except in the ruined villages, where the inhabitants had no homes to go to. The general confusion was added to by dreadful cries from the jails, where the prisoners were beside themselves with fright, and in some cases mutilated, but fortunately all the prisoners were kept within bounds.

Help Hurried to the Scene.
Troops, engineers and doctors have been hurried to the scene of disaster to assist in the work of rescue and salvage. The ministry of the interior sent $4,000 for the relief of the destitute, and Minister of Public Works Ferraris has left for Calabria.

Some Details of the Havoc.
Catanzaro, Italy, Sept. 9.—According to the latest telegrams received here one person was killed at San Floro, and loss of life occurred also at Jonadi, ten killed and 100 wounded; Daffina, many killed or wounded; Borgia, two killed and ten wounded; Olivadi, five killed and many wounded; Nicastro and Cortali, many wounded; Filadelfia, two killed; Nadda, one killed and thirty wounded; Martinano, many victims. At Gimigliana, Jacimo, Serrastretta, Girifalco and Montano property suffered heavily, as it did at all other points, but there were no casualties.

TOKIO QUIET FOR THE TIME

Fears Expressed That Disorder Will Break Out Again.

London, Sept. 9.—A Tokio dispatch dated yesterday says: "At noon the city is quiet. Complete reports from metropolitan and outlying districts indicate that there was no disorder throughout the night or early morning. The quietness of the night is ascribed to a heavy rain which scattered the crowds, although the presence of military guards is having a beneficial effect. The government has suspended a total of five newspapers, and it is expected that publication of others will be prevented."

"It is predicted that trouble will occur tonight providing the weather is favorable, although many believe that the most serious part of the disturbance is over unless an accidental clash with the military resulting in bloodshed occurs. The government has not indicated its intention regarding the summoning of a special session of the diet, but it is believed that a call will soon be issued. Government officials and the better class of Japanese citizens are expressing keen regret over the attacks on Christian churches."

"Preparations are progressing to present claims to the government for the foreign church property which has been destroyed. The members of the Harriman party have gone to Nikko, having cancelled the local programme for their entertainment."

RESTORING ORDER IN BAKU

Carnival of Bloodshed There Seems To Be Coming Under Control.

Tiflis, Sept. 9.—The commander of the forces here received the following telegram from the governor of Baku: "Peace between the hostile factions has been partially restored, but isolated cases of shooting continue. There were many incendiary fires Thursday night, but it is believed there was no loss of life. One regiment has arrived at Tiflis and further reinforcements are anxiously awaited from Vladikavkas and other places. In the northern Caucasus the local militia is being rapidly organized under regular permanently to that office. The president has not determined yet whom he may appoint as the successor to Palmer. It is not unlikely that the final determination of the question may depend to a considerable extent upon the result of the further investigation into the affairs of the government printing office to be made by the Keep commission.

Raised a Big Protest

Kalamazoo, Mich., Sept. 9.—A sensation was created at the trial of the suit brought by Vital Bangs and others against the executors of the estate of the late Henry Brees, when Attorney Stewart asked F. B. Monroe, vice president of the Kalamazoo Savings bank, one of the defendants, whether it was not possible with chemicals to make erasures in books so that it would be almost impossible for an expert to detect it afterwards.

The question, conveying as it did the insinuation that the bank's books may have been tampered with, evoked a storm of protest, but the attorney contended that both sides had employed experts on handwriting and counterfeiting. The question was allowed and Monroe admitted that such a thing was possible in his belief. Brees died in 1890, and was reputed to be worth half a million. The complainants claim that all the personal property has not been accounted for, and that the showing of $75,000 was away below the mark.

The man who has sayed up a few hundred dollars should watch the real estate ads. "like a hawk watches a chicken."

officers and non-commissioned officers."

The general commanding the troops in the Shusha district has sent a reassuring telegram regarding the situation there. In the villages of Dudukhu, Achilla, Akbulab and Charnantkhi, in the government of Elizabetopol, part of the population has been annihilated. The remainder fled. All the houses in these villages were plundered and then burned. Tartars have surrounded the villages of Edili and Bukutan and large bands of Tartars are marching on Gadrut and other villages.

A MURDEROUS ASSAULT ON AN EDITOR.

New York, Sept. 9.—Jacob H. Thompson, an exchange editor of the New York Times, was found unconscious and apparently dying from the effects of a fractured skull, a stab wound and strangulation in his room at the St. James hotel, on Forty-fifth street. The police believe that murder was attempted. Thompson was found fully dressed, and even wearing his eyeglasses, one of which had been broken off and had cut his eye.

At the base of the skull was a compound fracture and back of the left ear a deep wound, while the ear itself was lacerated. At the hospital finger marks were found on Thompson's neck, the larynx was fractured, and there was evidence that blood had burst from both ears. Physicians said that Thompson had lain where he was found for several hours. Thompson is about 60 years old.

Pointers for the Businessman

If the average young man would read the want ads, as closely as the baseball news he would find that he had as many "chances" as a first baseman; and by accepting some of them he would hasten the day when he could attend the game in person.

If the finder is honest a want ad. will bring back to you whatever you have lost—and nine out of every ten people are honest in such circumstances.

No one ever missed "the tide that leads on to fortune" unless he stopped looking for it. To read the want ads, regularly is to keep on the lookout for it.

The want ads. help you to manage your affairs—and even though your affairs be very simple they will usually "manage" you if you don't get a helping hand from the "wants."

"Each succeeding day is the scholar of that which preceded." And if you worked over-time yesterday because your office-force is "short-handed," it should have TAUGHT you as well as tired you. "Get thee to the want columns" and find another helper.

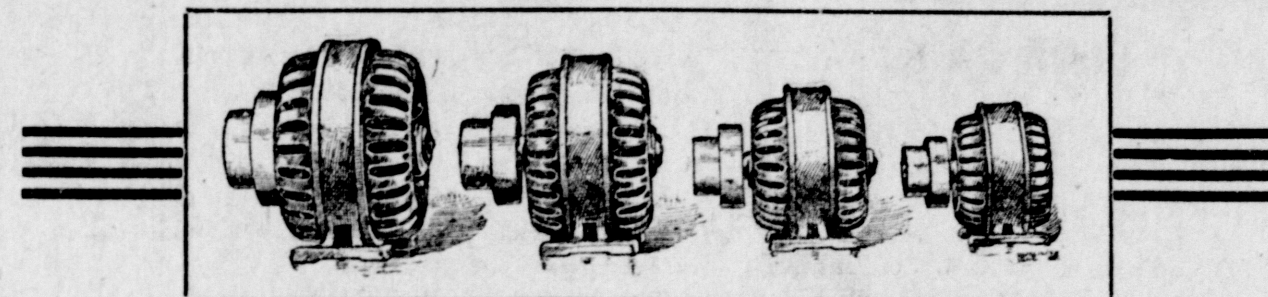

The young woman across the way, who used to run for her car at six-thirty a. m., now leaves the house about eight o'clock. You see—she's a skilled stenographer, and a want ad. found a place for her where the hours of work are easier and the pay better.

"A gudgeon won't believe in a pike until he is swallowed up alive." And the "amateur landlord" won't believe in a "dead-beat" tenant until he is well-bitten. Then it requires "quick advertising" to set things right again.

Are you short of money this month? Don't seek a loan from a friend—and lose the friend: spend a few dimes on a "For Sale" advertisement, and turn into cash something you had forgotten that you owned.

Phone 9124 and subscribe for the Tribune. Let us know when you do not get it.

WE GO AROUND WITH OUR MOUTHS FULL OF GERMS

They Wait for Their Chance then "Harpoon" Us.

New York, Sept. 9.—In a preliminary report by the medical commission for the investigation of acute respiratory diseases, which, under the department of health of this city, has been occupied for a year in experimental work with the microbe of pneumonia, it is asserted that in this city during the winter months the majority of inhabitants, ill or well, carry about this infectious and much dreaded organism in their mouths. The minute microbe waits for a propitious time for increasing its kind when the body becomes enfeebled, and so-called colds and pneumonia follow in natural sequence.

Fresh Air and Sunlight Its Enemies.

That fresh air and sunlight are a natural foe and a destroyer of the microbe, scientifically termed pneumococcus, is the finding of one of the members of the commission, President Darlington, of the board of health, appointed the commission and work began in August, 1904. The investigators have, however, hardly entered on the full scope of their work. Eminent bacteriologists in many large cities were called on to aid the commission with papers on the causes and effect of respiratory diseases outside of New York. A central laboratory was established at the College of Physicians and Surgeons in charge of Professor P. H. Hiss. The latter, in summarizing the consensus of expert opinion given the commission as to the prevalence of pneumonia germs in crowded localities, says:

Causes the Common Cold.

"No matter what the actual interpretation the prominent fact brought out is that practically every individual, at least in the winter season, when exposed to environmental conditions such as those existing in New York city, acts as a host at some time or other, and probably at repeated intervals, for organisms of the most characteristic pneumococcus type." Because of this the writer is strongly of the opinion that the microbe is in close relation to the cause of what are termed "common colds" and microscopical examinations have tended to confirm the supposition.

Lives Longest in Low Temperature.

Experiments told of in the report showed that in a dark room at ordinary room temperature the pneumonia germ lived eleven days, and when the temperature dropped to the freezing point the germ's life was extended to thirty-five days. In ordinary conditions the germ, when exposed to the air and bright sunlight, lived less than four hours. Because of these conditions the experimenters come to a conclusion that care must be taken in the use of dishes and drinking cups by others than a patient, for the germ may exist for weeks in the mouths of patients who have recovered from an attack of pneumonia.

ANOTHER FATAL AUTO ACCIDENT

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 9.—At the height of a spurt in which Walter Christie expected to lower the automobile record for the Atlantic City beach course the four rear cylinders of his car blew out, wrecking the motor, Christie and a companion who were in the car almost directly over the cylinders escaped serious injury, although Christie was struck in the back by a flying piston which penetrated the steel shield back of his seat.

Another piece of flying steel tore a gash in the hand of Walter Jones, who was assisting Christie in running the car. Christie, fearing to put on the brakes, ran into the soft sand, where the two men tumbled out.

Once a Turk Always So

Constantinople, Sept. 9.—The porte has replied to Minister Leishum's protest in regard to the Armenian Ghiskis Vartanian, said to be a citizen of the United States, who was condemned to death at Stambul for murder, reiterating its old contention in regard to the status of naturalized Turks.

The reply refers to article 4 of the naturalization laws, which declares that all Ottoman subjects obtaining foreign naturalization without the consent of the Turkish government will not be considered foreigners when they return to their country of origin.
